

"I don't fly airplanes.
I fly people."

Frank Robinson, Captain

We're American Airlines
Doing what we do best

Frank Robinson learned to fly twice. For America, in F-100 fighters and SAC B-52's all over the world. And for American, in 727's, at Fort Worth, Texas.

There, at American's Flight Academy, many of his hours in the air were spent on the ground—in one of our multi-million-dollar flight simulators.

These marvelous machines realistically simulate all aspects of flight, and enable us to conduct emergency training that's too hazardous to do in airplanes and too important to do without.

In the airline business, safety comes first. So we've trained all our pilots this way—and pilots from 44 other airlines in 21 different countries as well.

We're proud of our Flight Academy. But we're even prouder of our pilots.

It takes the best people to make the best airline. Captain Frank Robinson is one of them, and we wanted you to meet him.
